Mercy & Justice

Mercy and Justice ministry – starting a movement.

In 2021, Anglicans across the country experienced a renewed call to works of Justice and Mercy across the country. This national calling needs to be carried out in the local parish, by the people of the parish, one person at a time.

This calling can be daunting. Helping another person can be the most difficult task one ever undertakes, and there are many ways to cause as much harm as there is good; however, it can be done, and it can be done well. Using the best of our learning, and yet, understanding that it is God who changes someone, we can make a difference.

That is what the Mercy and Justice Ministry of the DRM hopes to do, help you make a difference. This ministry wants to get to know each congregation of the DRM, be introduced to what makes you tick and what love is coming from your people. Then, with that understanding, help each parish find ways to engage in the real work of justice and mercy in your local context. By learning what makes each parish unique and knowing what actions to suggest to that parish, the Justice and Mercy Ministry can help you find those one-on-one connections that will change the world.
